

about to be

This extract of is taken as Macbeth's castle, Dunsinane, is besieged by Malcolm and the English. At this stage Macbeth has lost much of his honour, and is fully developed into his 'butcher' that others perceive him to be. ~~At this stage~~ Macbeth does not think the apparitions' can be true as they seem impossible. He does not think Birnam wood can be 'removed' and taken to his castle as the apparition informed.

Before his speech Macbeth is described to be a 'confident tyrant' by his enemies. The strong noun tyrant conveys his ~~bad~~ <sup>bad</sup> reputation. This is further emphasised by how his enemies thought 'his the holy lox about him'. This metaphor conveys how they believe him to have upset the 'Divine Right of Kings' which is how kings are God-given and should not be ~~was~~ usurped. Macbeth killed Duncan which has ~~been~~ <sup>been</sup> ~~ruined~~ <sup>ruined</sup> this and the order of Scotland has been ~~ruined~~ <sup>ruined</sup> broken. This ~~not~~ does not portray him as a hero, but as a 'tyrant'.

Macbeth describes the apparitions as 'sweet bodements'. This adjective ~~conveys~~ <sup>conveys</sup> how positively Macbeth viewed the apparitions as he thought them impossible. This has made him very confident. This is further emphasised by how he describes the 'English' enemies'. This <sup>metaphor</sup> conveys how ~~confident~~ <sup>confident</sup> he is as he views the enemy as helpless and ~~long~~ <sup>long</sup> against him.

Macbeth is described as 'worn' and 'idle'. This greatly contrasts to how the 'tyrant' and 'butcher' that we see in the speech this conveys how 'is no longer' perceived to be a hero in his enemies eyes. These powerful adjectives and nouns help portray the way he is viewed and not as a hero.

Macbeth ~~uses~~ uses the ~~imperative~~ <sup>imperative</sup> when Macbeth speaks. He ~~is~~ <sup>is</sup> ~~to~~ <sup>to</sup> ~~kill~~ <sup>kill</sup> the 'False Thanes' to 'fly' and to 'bring him no more reports'. This conveys his ~~arrogance~~ <sup>arrogance</sup> as he thinks the apparitions ~~cannot~~ <sup>cannot</sup> come true. This ~~arrogance~~ <sup>arrogance</sup> and defiance ~~we~~ <sup>we</sup> see from Macbeth is a result of his hubris. His pride and ambition is his downfall and

