Dear Parents/Guardians

RE: Philosophy Study Day

On Wednesday 10 February the Religious Studies department will be hosting the Philosophy Study Day for year 10 students.

Students will be given an interactive lecture by philosopher of religion and ethicist Dr Tim Gibson and the day will focus on the question: Does God exist or not? Students will then unravel the different sides of the debate through various activities. At the end of the day students will give presentations and stage their own discussion on this topic. This day is aimed not only to challenge students in the area of Philosophy but also develop their debating and presentation skills.

After assembly students should line up outside the chapel block, ready for the first session in the Chapel. Students will only need a pencil case and notepad for the day and lunch will be as normal.

Yours sincerely
