Year 11 Revision Programme 2017

Over the remaining weeks of Year 11, the focus on revision in lessons will be as follows:

2 w/b 27/2
3 w/b 6/3

6 w/b 27/3		Jekyll and Hyde
7 w/b 3/4		An Inspector Calls
Easter Holidays
1 w/b 24/4		Anthology / Unseen poetry

NB Because Macbeth has been studied recently, we are planning to spend just one or two double lessons revising the play. Teachers will decide when to do this on an individual basis.

Breakfast Revision Sessions 2017

We are planning to run breakfast revision sessions before the two English Literature exams (22nd and 26th May) and the two Language exams (6th and 12th June). These will run for an hour before each exam (7.45am – 8.45am) in the Drama Studio, and will be led by members of the English team. Please note that these are top-up sessions only: we expect pupils to have put in a lot of preparation and revision as part of their independent revision schedules before this point!

Resources

In addition, we are making revision resources available to all students that include guidelines on how to revise for the English exams, revision materials tailor-made for each of the exam tasks, and exemplar questions that pupils can practise with. These resources will be constantly added to as we move through revision lessons towards the exams, so pupils are advised to check the following places regularly:

- The 'Q' Drive (go to 'English', then 'KS4', then Year 11 Revision 2017)
- The BWS website (go to 'Curriculum', then 'English'; materials can be found in 'Student Resources')
- Mr. Ennew's English set only: materials will also be available on the 'Revision' conversation in Kaizena

Please note: as some of the materials cannot be made available in a public domain, students need to check each location regularly.

Friday Drop-In Clinic / Middle School Book Club (Mondays)

Mr. Ennew will also be available in drop-in sessions over Friday lunchtimes in E8 from 12:20 onwards – this can cover any aspect of the course and no prior appointment is needed. In addition, Ms Williams is focussing on 'Jekyll and Hyde' in the Middle School Book Club on Monday lunchtimes from 12.25pm.
